

Houstonia.

Top Things to Do This Weekend: May 10–12

Where to go, who to see, and what to do

By Michael Hardy 5/7/2013 at 6:47pm

Visual Art

Through Soviet Jewish Eyes: Photography, War, and the Holocaust

The United States likes to boast that it won WWII, but we often forget that eighteen million Soviet citizens gave their lives to defeat Hitler, compared to around 300,000 Americans. This exhibition of photographs from Soviet war journalists, many of them Jewish, shows the “Great Patriotic War” from the Russian perspective, including some of the first photographs of Nazi death camps. Based on an award-winning book by David Schneer, who curates the exhibition.

*Thru Oct 25
Holocaust Museum Houston
5401 Caroline St.*

713-942-8000

hnh.org